20a. How does the Committee accomplish its purpose?

The Proposal Review Panels reviewed proposals for the following special initiative activities : Faculty Early Career Development; Research Experiences for Undergraduates; Chemistry Research Instrumentation and Facilities; Technology for a Sustainable Environment; Professional Opportunities for Women in Research and Education; and Environmental Molecular Science Institutes and Collaborative Research Activities in Environmental Molecular Science. Additionally, panels convened for the purpose of reviewing proposals in Analytical and Surface Chemistry, Experimental Physical Chemistry, and several CAREER panels in the various subdisciplines with the Chemistry Division. Panels met to review proposals for Research Sites for Education in Chemistry. For each of these activities the panels provided an approximate priority for the funding of the competing proposals. For each of these activities it is important to compare the relative merit of the competing proposals or, in the case of the NSF Career Application, the relative merit of the competing individuals. The broadly-based panels, the membership of which is carefully balanced (see below), provides a depth of insight into all of the important factors which the staff must consider in making its decisions. The panel recommendations are a major factor in the final decisions, but in some cases the Division must take other factors into account in arriving at a final list of successful proposals. For each proposal, the committee prepares a Panel Summary which is provided to the applicant as partial justification for the final decision.

20b. How does the Committee balance its membership?

Panel membership includes individuals with expertise in all areas of the science involved, selected for broad geographical distribution, and to provide an appropriate mix of types of colleges and universities, and with women and minority representation at least equal to that in the applicant pool. Industrial scientists are included on virtually all panels.

20c. How frequent and relevant are the Committee Meetings?

The timing of the meetings is determined by Foundation-wide deadlines and the need to provide timely reviews and decisions within the six-month interval allowed by Foundation policy. A fair and efficient review requires the use of panels.

20d. Why can't the advice or information this committee provides be obtained elsewhere?

There is no other standing or ad hoc group that exists that has the blend of backgrounds--technical, institutional, and personal--to provide the Division with the necessary technical review of the proposals being considered.

20e. Why is it necessary to close and/or partially closed committee meetings?

To review proposals that included information of a proprietary or confidential nature, including technical information; financial data such as salaries; and personal information concerning individuals associated with the proposals.

Narrative Description

The NSF mission is set out in the NSF Act of 1950 authorizes and directs the Agency to initiate and support: basic scientific research and research fundamental to the engineering process; and science and engineering education programs at all levels and in all fields of science and engineering. The involvement of knowledgeable peers from outside the Foundation in the review of proposals is the keystone of NSF's proposal review system. Their judgments of the extent to which proposals address the merit review criteria are vital for informing NSF staff and influencing funding recommendations.

Cost Savings Comments

The use of panelists to review proposals for the Agency is an invaluable asset. The cost of obtaining the expertise, insight, and information received by the Division using alternative methods, such as hiring the expertise as full or part-time employees, would be extremely high.
